The main content area features a feed of posts and comments. The first post is a reply from Justin Fencsak, followed by a post from Spencer Karter mentioning the NAB and a video titled 'Locast Being Sued By Broadcasters, You Won't Get Away With This NAB!'. Below this is a post from Richard Linsalato and another from Bruce Sheppard. The feed continues with posts from Cathy Cooke Possenti, Jeff Calhoun, and John Young.

On the right side, there are several informational sections: '2.9 out of 5 - Based on the opinion of 138 people', 'Our Story' (describing Locast as a non-profit public service organization), 'Community' (showing 2,111 likes and 2,319 followers), 'About' (listing website, TV network, and press info), 'Page Transparency' (showing the page was created on January 3, 2018), and 'Related Pages' (featuring 'Cord Cutters News'). At the bottom right, there is a 'Chat' button and icons for sharing and settings.

Laura Manory I hope the Boston area can get the ION(east) channel back!!! Its one of the main channels I watch on locast. I watch them all but there are a few I watch most and ION is one of them.

Eric Williams I live in an area where one broadcast stations signal is degraded due to digital transmission.
I feel my rights were taken away when this stations over the air (OTA) was all but eliminated in my local.
I feel I have a right to have locate in my area to provide this signal to me.
Paying the cable company or ANY company just to receive a FREE signal is not American.
Thank you Locast and I hope you grow into my area in San Diego California.

Chris Stanley The broadcast business model is slowly folding and they are chasing dimes. If the networks succeed in cutting Locast off, we might just find out that we really don't miss them all that much. Their loss. My kids don't watch any broadcast TV.

Mike Woo I am not surprised. Locast just came to the LS market. I live in an area that does not receive OTA signals. Fight like the devil, we NEED Locast. I gladly donate monthly to support them.

Jeremy Dukette I don't know why the broadcast networks don't just play nice together, and make an app themselves and sell a monthly subscription for like $10. Instead they want people to pay cable $13 a month, or pay for each of their apps separately (CBS All Access/NBC new streaming service)

Jon Michaelson With the SetTV decision Locast is going to have an uphill battle. Sure, SetTV was charging 20.00 but the 5.00 donation could be seen by the courts as charging for service rather than a donation. This means the non profit status of Locast could be...

Arnold Iñiguez LOCAS is the BEST since we needed to broadcast through an Annoying UNRELIABLE antenna. Anyone who criticizes the request for donations is just as annoying to me. Onward LOCAS as you defend FREE TELEVISION!!

Chris Joseph Thank you! You offer an amazing service to everyone doing what these stations are too stupid and greedy to do themselves.

Kyle Foster Guess what! When 3 EF2 tornadoes tore through our town a week ago, it was Locast that allowed me to continue watching local live storm coverage while in the basement. There's a need for this service it can aid in saving lives! The big 3 corporations can go straight to hell as far as I'm concerned!
